The 4th, 5th and 6th of October, 1921, finds Inyo exhibiting her wares in a County Fair. This is a symbol of confidence in the future which her people have always been inspired with. There has not been a County Fair in many years, due to the World War, and Inyo is again calling the attention of the world to her wonderful resources and her ability to meet the readjustment that is taking place over the universe.

The future is very bright, and we must bend our efforts in the practice of thrift and efficiency. Investigation has shown us that our county is especially adapted to the growth of pears and it will not be long before Inyo will take her place in that industry. It is a year ago since the pear attracted our attention to its possibilities in Inyo, yet it seems like a few days. The years necessary for an orchard to mature will pass rapidly and seem like months.

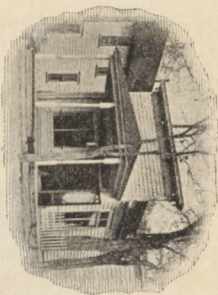

Our ranches have already taken their place among the foremost in the country and it has been proven what can be accomplished with dairy cattle, hogs, bees, etc.

Inyo's wonderful scenery, fields and streams are drawing to them tourists from all over the world. This year finds a continuous caravan of autos packed to the guards, crowding our main streets for supplies to take them on their journey to our play grounds.

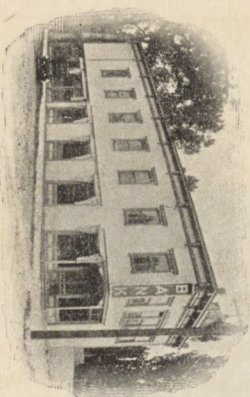

We must keep ahead of the tide. Take pride in our ranches. Equip them with profit-making machinery, improve our herds, keep up our highways and stand shoulder to shoulder in unselfish effort and solid front.

Let us make this Fair a success, and an annual event. Start now by putting in an entry. Plan to have a better one for next year. Life is just a game—play it—we are with you all the way.

Information

The Inyo County Fair will be held in Bishop October 4th, 5th and 6th, under the management of the Board of Directors. It has been underwritten and financed by the American Legion. All are now earnestly at work to make this the most successful fair ever held in the county. The Directors and committees need the assistance and co-operation of every business man, stockman, farmer—in fact every person of every class is urged to exhibit some products or articles from their farm or home. The Legion boys expect to keep up their reputation and go over the top. Let's all go with them. Suitable prizes and awards have been provided, aggregating more than $3500.

It has been arranged through the Farm Bureau for a corps of experts from the State University to act as judges of live stock, also to conduct a three days dairy test, and assist our boys of the Corn Club in selecting and judging seed corn.

Rules and Regulations

1st—Exhibits of all kinds except otherwise specified must be owned, produced, manufactured or grown in Inyo or Mono counties.

2nd—Exhibitors will not be charged a fee on pavilion or live stock exhibits.

3rd—All exhibits of agriculture, horticulture, canned fruits, needle work, painting, etc., and all things to be placed in the pavilion should be presented to the pavilion superintendent or entry clerk October 3rd, and under no circumstances can any article be entered for prize in pavilion later than 10 o'clock a. m., October 4th, except as hereafter specified.

4th—All exhibits of cut flowers and in the culinary department should be presented on the second day, October 5th, not later than 10 a. m., and will be judged the same day.

5th—Proper entry of all articles or animals to be exhibited must be made with entry clerks. A tag bearing the number with a coupon attached will be furnished for each entry. The tag must be attached to the article or animal to be exhibited and the coupon retained by the owner or exhibitor in order to claim the article or animal at close of Fair.

6th—The entry card, with number of article or animal as received from the clerk, must be attached to the article or animal when being judged; and to those judging, names of exhibitors must not be given or displayed.

7th—Exhibitors of live stock may display over pens or stalls where stock is kept, a written or printed placard of name, breed and age, with register number of animal and name and address of owner.

8th—Exhibitors of live stock must inform themselves from the superintendent of the proper division when their stock will be judged and must present same promptly when called to the judging rig, with the proper entry card attached.

9th—No person should be permitted in the showing while stock is being judged except the awarding committee, officers of the Fair and the necessary attendants.

10th—The judges if called upon will give their reasons for their decisions, embracing the value and desirable qualities and points of animal or article to which premium has been awarded.

11th—No diseased or imperfect produce or animal will be permitted to compete for prizes.

12th—Pens and stalls will be assigned by the superintendent in charge after proper entry of animal has been made.

13th—Necessary care and precaution will be given to protect all exhibits of whatsoever kind against damage, injury or loss. Further, the Board of Directors do not assume any financial obligation for damage, injury or loss to property exhibited.

14th—Animals must have been awarded first premium in order to compete for sweepstakes.

Premiums will be exhibited by ribbons as follows:

First premium, Blue Ribbon.

Second premium, Red Ribbon.

Third premium, honorable mention, White Ribbon.

Sweepstakes, Purple Ribbon.

All exhibits will be judged the second day of the Fair, October 5th.

16th—All stock that competes for prizes should be at the race track October 6th at ten o'clock a. m. to march in the general stock parade.

17th—Dates for computing ages will be as follows:

Horses and mules January 1st;

Sheep, January 1st.

No animals to be awarded prize if deemed unworthy by judge.

A Glimpse of Inyo

Inyo county had, in 1920, 521 farms, an increase of 18.9 per cent over 1910. Of these 496 were operated by white farmers, and most of the remainder by native Indians.

Owens Valley's fertile, well watered soil will produce every temperate zone vegetable or fruit hardier than citrus varieties. A fruit to which it is specially adapted is pears, the elevation of about 4000 feet exempting it from pear disease found in lower altitudes. For proof of quality of products, see exhibits in this fair.

Dairying is important, and will be more so. Good water, mild climate and nutritious grasses all make for success in any branch of the livestock industry.

Good schools—about $350,000 have been invested in new plants this year—assure the home-maker of due advantages for his children.

Add to these, the magnificent scenery at our doors, the many fishing streams and lakes and other attractions for lovers of the out-of-doors, and you have a sketchy idea of the attractions of Inyo, a county unsurpassed.

FARM BUREAU MEMBERS, ATTENTION!

Annual meeting of Inyo County Farm Bureau will be held at the High School grounds the last day of the Fair, October 6th.

BASKET LUNCH AT TWELVE O'CLOCK

Come with well filled baskets and bring your cups and spoons for a drink of hot coffee served by the Federation of Women's Clubs.
